ON STAGE 20 8-20 9 Welcome to the 25th silver season

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to the Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts On Stage 25th Silver Anniversary Season. As the new President of the RFA, I am truly honored to be working with wonderful volunteers who give so much time to the RFA. I retired from Baltimore County Public Schools as the PreK-12 Coordinator of Music for 152 schools, where I witnessed first-hand the impact that the arts have in the lives of children and adults. That belief is supported by the RFA whose mission is to provide exceptional performing arts experiences to the community and the schools.

On Stage performances have been made possible by many people, who believe that life is richer with artistic expression and creativity. The RFA is deeply appreciative of the support from our Silver Sponsors and local foundations. We are also fortunate to receive generous contributions from individual donors highlighted on our Silver Supporters page, as well as our Silver Benefactors who have provided additional funding to support our 25th Silver Anniversary programming and ensure our investments.

Our Playbill advertisers are also critical to the success of On Stage and we encourage you to recognize them by patronizing their businesses. Several restaurants are providing discounts to any ticket holder the evening of an On Stage performance so please enjoy dinner and a show!

We thank you for attending this very special year of celebration, for it is your support and tireless efforts that allow us to present this exciting On Stage 25th Silver Anniversary Season.

THEN AND NOW

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF ON STAGE PERFORMANCES

In 1986, the Rappahannock Foundation, Inc. was founded by a few retirees who wanted to expand artistic activity in Lancaster and surrounding counties. The group, led by John Binns, began supporting local arts organizations and providing local concerts in the school gym. Through the efforts of these visionary founders and subsequent volunteer Board members, many meetings and fundraising activities were initiated to help build the Lancaster Middle School Theater. Then in October 1993, the On Stage premiere season curtains opened with the first performance by the Virginia Symphony. Since that time, the RFA has presented 136 On Stage productions to the community for 25 continuous years. Our current roster includes Grammy and award-winning musicians from around the globe. These exemplary performances have helped the RFA grow to become a leading arts foundation in the Northern Neck. Patrons only need to drive to Kilmarnock to see productions that often appear in Richmond, at Wolftrap, or in New York. Ms. Ellen Bray, former board member and chair of the Presenters Committee in 1993 said it best, "to have the quality performance which is being offered and have it here at home, we think the On Stage is a singular bargain".

RFA IS HONORED WITH THE BEDROCK AWARD FROM VCA

In January 2018, the Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts was selected from over 350 nominees to be one of 50 recipients of the "50 for 50 Arts Inspiration Award" from the Virginia Commission for the Arts. The award recognizes programs, individuals, and organizations who have played a critical role in the arts in Virginia in the last 50 years. Recipients were recognized as being today's leaders and tomorrow's visionaries.

The Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts was named as a "Bedrock Institution." Arts organizations in that category must have been in existence more than ten years and demonstrated a benefit to the economic health and or tourism in the community, exhibited artistic excellence, celebrated diversity and showcased Virginia as a cultural destination. The RFA is proud of this prestigious award and dedicated to the continuance of providing exemplary performances and sustained leadership in the arts to the Northern Neck community.

FLASHBACK

Symphony to present 'Mozart & More' Oct. 3

From concerts to soloists to dramas, professional stage attractions are on their way to the Northern Neck as the Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts introduces its new "On Stage" performing arts series featuring three stellar productions beginning in the fall at the Lancaster Middle School auditorium.

"The recent Epic Brass virtuoso horn ensemble concert, sponsored by the Foundation, provided a singular example of the level of attractions," said Ellen Bray, chairman of the RFA Presenters Committee.

"Now concertgoers or playgoers who have had to travel to Richmond or Norfolk to hear a symphony or other stage attractions will find professional performances on the stage here at home," said Foundation President John Binns.

Doug Richards will conduct his Great American Music Ensemble as one of the Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts new "On Stage" series for 1993-1994

The three productions planned for the coming fall-winter-spring On Stage series are the Virginia Symphony of Norfolk, the Great American Music Ensemble with the renowned jazz group of Doug Richards of Richmond, and "Dracula!" presented by Barter Theatre of Abingdon.

The Virginia Symphony will be on the Middle School auditorium stage Sunday, October 3. Doug Richards' jazz ensemble will appear Thursday, February 17, and Barter Theatre's "Dracula" will be presented Sunday, March 27.

Tickets for the On Stage series are $45 total for the three productions. Tickets will be on sale at the auditorium box office from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekdays beginning April 12 and continuing through April 30. Mastercard and Visa are accepted. The box office phone is 435-0292.

"To have the quality performance which is being offered and have it here at home, we think the On Stage series is a singular bargain," Bray said.

The October 3 program will be by the 49-member "Mozart and More" ensemble of The Virginia Symphony. The program will include Ravel's "Mother Goose," and oboe concerto by Mozart and Beethoven's Symphony No. 8.

Doug Richards' Great American Music Ensemble, coming February 17, brings some of Count Basie, Duke Ellington and Fletcher Henderson. Richards' ensemble is recognized as one of the premier jazz groups in the nation.

The king of the vampires, Dracula, takes the stage March 27 as America's oldest professional equity theatre, Barter Theatre, brings melodrama at its bloodcurdling best.

On Stage series tickets can be purchased by mail as well as at the box office. Mail orders may be addressed to: Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts, Box 459, Kilmarnock, 22482.

ARTS FOR YOUTH enriching education programs

The Rappahannock Foundation for the Arts supports arts education as the key to achieving understanding, appreciation, and creative expression in our young people. Americans for the Arts states that "research has shown impressive benefits of arts education on entire school culture—especially student motivation, attitudes, and attendance". Through grants that the RFA receives, we are able to bring quality, professional performances to schools in Lancaster County, reaching children at a younger age to encourage creative thinking while enjoying a live performance outside of their traditional classroom setting. RFA strives to nurture and spark the imaginations of youth in our area, offer inspiration, and promote and develop life skills through the arts.

Virginia Repertory Theatre will perform "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" at Lancaster Middle School in October 2018.

For 2018-19, the Arts for Youth program received grant support from two local foundations. The River Counties Community Foundation and The Tidewater Foundation are directing resources toward programs in Lancaster

The Barter Players will present "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" in February 2019 at Lancaster Middle School.

County schools. The generous community support from these two local foundations greatly enhances arts education in our schools.

This season's six performances focus on musicals and drama from "The Legends of Sleepy Hollow" to the classics "The Princess and the Pea" and "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" to "School House Rock."

During the 2017-18 school year, eight shows were staged for over 2,000 students and were designed to engage and entertain while reinforcing state educational standards of learning.

★ SILVER BENEFACTORS

The individuals below have dedicated a special On Stage 25th Silver Anniversary contribution of $1,000 or more to support this year's activities. Thank you!

To enrich this special year of celebration and enhance our financial stability for the future, several individuals have made significant contributions to our Silver Anniversary year and are listed by donation level. Our premier donation by Jerry Hamm is in memory of his wife, Maria Laqueur, a loyal RFA board member from 1998-2008, avid supporter, lover of the arts and dedicated volunteer. One of the founding members of the RFA, past President, and board member from 1986-2008, Bill Moore, is honored for his life of service through the donation by his wife Lillian and their foundation. Additional Silver Benefactors include past and present board members, community enthusiasts, and faithful subscribers. The RFA is truly grateful for all our donors, for we know that our benefactors and supporters are believers in the value of the arts in our lives, and it is that belief, devotion and enthusiasm that has allowed the RFA to continue to provide exemplary performances for 25 years. Happy Silver Anniversary On Stage!

ON STAGE about the artists

Back by popular demand, The Seldom Scene is the Grammy-nominated, American bluegrass band known for playing bluegrass a little differently than everyone else. Formed in 1971 in Bethesda, Maryland, The Seldom Scene has been instrumental in starting the progressive bluegrass movement by including bluegrass versions of country music, rock, and pop in their shows. For over 40 years, The Seldom Scene has been strumming, picking, and plucking tunes with flair and flourish.

The group started playing together at weekly sessions in Ben Eldridge's basement in the 1970's, with once a week performances from which the band derived their name, The Seldom Scene. As the band's reputation and popularity grew, their number of performances also increased, delighting audiences wherever they played.

When founding member John Duffey passed away in 1996, the band reached a crossroads: retire or continue on. The group loved playing music together, so they decided to continue. Band members Eldridge, Ronnie Simpkins, Dudley Connell, and Fred Travers recruited ex-member Lou Reid to rejoin the group. The final original member of The Seldom Scene, Ben Eldridge, retired in January 2016, and Rickie Simpkins stepped in. Ron Stewart replaced Rickie Simpkins in 2017.

ON STAGE about the artists

Tight melodies and impeccable musicianship are the trademark sounds the band has developed over the years. The Scene is known for their fresh interpretations of tunes by greats such as Bob Dylan, Emmylou Harris, Merle Haggard, and The Grateful Dead. So sit back, get comfortable, and listen as The Seldom Scene tells their stories as only they can.

Dudley Connell plays a masterful guitar and provides lead vocals for The Scene. Connell's renditions of traditional songs like "Old Train", folk ballads such as "Blue Diamond Mine", and blues songs like "Rollin' and Tumblin" delight audiences. Connell is a former member of the Johnson Mountain Boys. He joined The Scene in 1995.

Lou Reid plays mandolin and provides the tenor vocals for The Scene. He is also a former member of Ricky Skaggs Band, Quicksilver. He currently fronts his own group Carolina.

Ronnie Simpkins plays bass for The Scene and provides the bass vocals. Simpkins has been performing Bluegrass music since childhood and is a former member of The Tony Rice Unit.

Ron Stewart plays banjo and fiddle for the scene. A former member of the Boxcars, Stewart won the IBMA Award for Fiddle Player of the Year in 2000 and the IBMA Award for Banjo Player of the Year in 2011.

Fred Travers is one of the most respected dobro players on the bluegrass circuit today. He is also an accomplished vocalist who brings solid lead and harmony to the Scene. Travers is a former member of the Gary Ferguson Band and the Paul Adkins Band.
